

The African American Studies Department Presents

Discussion and Book Signing with

Dr. Uche Lynn-Teresa Ugwueze

Sponsored by the Department of African American Studies, the Department of English, Comparative Literature, and Linguistics, and with the support of the WoMen's Center and the African American Resource Center.

WHEN:
Tuesday, March 20, 2012

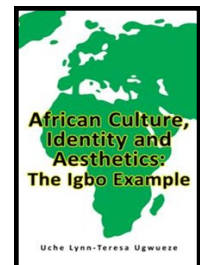

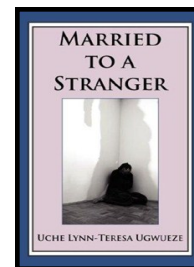

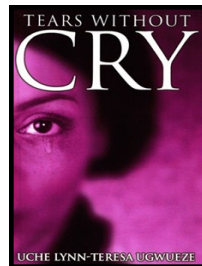

WHERE:
WoMen's Center UH-205

TIME:
12:00PM-1:00PM:
Discussion (Q&A)

1:00PM-1:30PM:
Book Signing

For more information contact :
Dr. Matthews
lhinesmon-matthews@fullerton.edu
ext. 2490

Bring Your Brownbag Lunch!

Dr. Uche Lynn-Teresa Ugwueze's novellas are lauded for their realistic depictions of social issues, extensive exploration of female realities and epic representations of family dynamics. Much of her work draws upon Ugwueze's understanding of human dispositions and attitudes.

Dr. Ugwueze gives incisive speeches to audiences worldwide and has been recognized for her work as a continuity announcer and producer on radio and television. She is a much sought-after speaker and frequent conference presenter.

Dr. Ugwueze has taught at colleges and universities in the U.S. and abroad, including Nigeria. She presently teaches English and Africana Literature in the Department of Africana Studies at California State University, Long Beach.

Dr. Ugwueze is the author of several articles and books, among which are Wet in the Sun, Tears without Cry, Married to a Stranger and African Culture, Identity and Aesthetics: The Igbo Example.

EVERYONE IS WELCOME!